KAMLOOPS (CP) — A blood-stained knife which a police witness said bore the fingerprints of Joe Bells was produced Wednesday at the trial of Bells on a murder charge.

SPEAKS HERE — Dean E. D. MacPhee, of the UBC Faculty of Commerce, will address students and guests at a banquet here for graduates of the business management course, completed last summer. Dinner gets under way at 6 p.m. in the Aquatic.

Identical with that of the accused.

Bells is charged with the knife-slaying of Angus MacDonald, 42, in Bells' cabin Sept. 4.

Mrs. Lena Moses Marshall, who testified she had been convicted of drunkenness "lots of times," told of a sordid drinking party and of seeing MacDonald on the floor of the cabin. Other witnesses supported her testimony.

The hearing continues today.

GAS PRICE STAYS

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Public Utilities Commission will not cut the B.C. Electric Company's natural gas rates, said a PUC report released here Wednesday on recent gas price hearings.

The report said larger volume sales will eventually reduce operating costs and make lower rates possible.

"This should come about gradually in any case," it said.

A BCE spokesman said the company now has no plans for reducing gas rates.

CMA OFFICERS NAMED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Oscar R. Olson of Vancouver was re-elected chairman of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at its annual meeting here.

H. A. McDiarmid of Lumby was elected first vice-chairman and R. B. McDonnell, Vancouver second vice-chairman.

Others elected to the executive included:

J. M. Green, H. L. Ramsay.

B.C. Reporter Wins Award

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winners of the first annual Western Canada news awards by the Winnipeg Press Club were announced today by Attorney-General Sterling Lyon, chairman of a seven-man judging panel.

The awards were made for the best entries in four categories in 1958: Newspaper story, news photograph, radio news story and television news story. Employees of newspapers, radio and television stations from the Lakehead to the Pacific coast were eligible to enter. Entries came from all parts of the west.

The newspaper story award went to Ed Cosgrove of the New Westminster Columbian for his coverage of the Second Narrows Bridge collapse June 17.

The news photo award went to Bill Rose of the Winnipeg Free Press for a picture of a wrecked car involved in a fatal accident. A pair of ornamental dice in the windshield showed a count of two — "snake eyes" or a lost bet in a dice game.

CJOB MAN WINS

The radio news award went to Dudley Patterson of CJOB Winnipeg for a telephone interview with a berserk Winnipeg man who had locked himself in his house and was standing off police with rifle fire.

The television news award was won by Bill Cunningham of CBUT, the CBC's Vancouver television station, for a feature on unemployment in Vancouver used on the program Newsmagazine.

Honorable mention was given to Frank Jones of the Winnipeg Tribune for a newspaper story on the traffic death of a pensioner who remained unidentified for several days, and to Ev Dutton of CKRC Winnipeg for a feature broadcast on the Springhill mine disaster.

A special citation went to Ken MacGray of the Port Arthur News-Chronicle for a report on irregularities in municipal affairs at Geraldton, Ont.

The awards will be presented at the Press Club's annual reunion dinner April 23, marking the club's 71st anniversary.

Peters Again Heads Press Association

TORONTO (CP) — Charles H. Peters of the Montreal Gazette was re-elected president of the Canadian Press Association Wednesday by his fellow directors of the national news co-operative.

D. B. Rogers of the Regina Leader-Post was re-elected honorary president.

Officers were chosen by the board after the annual meeting of members at which newspaper executives and editors from the 10 provinces discussed affairs of the association, the news partnership through which Canadian dailies exchange the news of their areas.

The annual meeting elected nine directors for two-year terms. Nine elected last year continue in office.

Directors elected Wednesday by regions:

Atlantic: J. R. H. Sutherland, New Glasgow News.

French languages: A. F. Mercier, Quebec 1 Evenement Journal.

Quebec: Charles H. Peters, Montreal Gazette.

Ontario: Arthur L. Davies, Kingston Whig-Standard, Peter M. Preston, Brantford Expositor, and R. A. Graybiel, Windsor Star.

Prairies: S. Malone, Winnipeg Free Press, and St. Clair McCabe, Moose Jaw Times-Herald.

British Columbia: Stuart Kent, Victoria Times.

POT OF GOLD IN COINWORD

There's a "pot of gold" awaiting someone. Another week has passed and still no one has come up with the correct solution to The Daily Courier's Coinword Contest.

With the result, another $30 has been added to the pot, to bring the grand prize to $840, providing a sales slip from one of the sponsoring merchants is enclosed.

Correct answer to last week's puzzle will appear in Friday's Courier. Another puzzle appears on page 11 of today's Courier.

Empress Sale Hits City Hard

By ALBERT DENEGRIE
Daily Courier Staff Writer

The march of progress is tramping the city's artistic—and social—life underfoot, for the time being, at least.

Soon the Empress theatre, centre of the city's entertainment life for many years until the Paramount was built, and still the only suitable place for theatrical plays and concerts, will become another commercial building.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS

Ultimate plans for the Empress are not definite, but the building likely will house offices and a store.

But of immediate concern to the arts-minded is that the Empress "has had it" now. The Bank of Montreal, intending to demolish its present building and erect a larger one, has to go somewhere else until the new building is completed.

The Empress appears to be the logical choice, though both the owner and the bank admit there has been no definite arrangement concluded.

But those who follow, or are a part of the legitimate theatre (stage)—and there are hundreds of arts-minded in the city and district—are not giving up without a struggle.

Taking the leading role in fighting for a suitable replacement is the Kelowna Little Theatre group.

BOUND TO COME

David Chapman, KLT president, appearing before city council Monday night, freely admitted there was little chance to hold on to the Empress. It was bound to come—this bowing out to progress.

He appealed to the city fathers to preserve it, if possible, for its "charm and atmosphere" so that the artistic, cultural and social life of the city could continue without further handicaps.

As an alternative he urged the city to consider now the erection of a civic auditorium—"not a large one"—that could be used for stage plays and concerts. He said the arena and the high school auditorium did not lend themselves to the proper enjoyment of theatrical productions.

Mr. Chapman said the KLT would undertake to raise $1,000 annually to help pay for the project and opined that other cultural groups would be prepared to assist financially, too.

DONATE SEATS?

He also informed the council that a plan was being worked out whereby the stage curtains and the theatre seats, still owned by Famous Players (though the Empress theatre building is owned by the Bernard Holding Co.) likely will be donated to any new civic auditorium that might be built.

Cost of the curtains and seats was placed at $8,000.

Ronald Irwin, KLT vice-president, told council that in due course it would be necessary to establish a university town in the interior, and it would be in the city that shows the "broad outlook" in artistic work and other development.

"That could well be Kelowna if we plan wisely," he said.

Mayor Parkinson said the loss of the Empress was inevitable. "The keeping up of the downtown area—a high tax area—must be stressed."

COMMITTEE AT WORK

But, he added, the impending loss of the Empress recalls that a special committee was set up some years ago, under chairmanship of Ald. Arthur Jackson, to investigate the need of a civic auditorium.

Ald. Jackson said the committee had done little during the past year.

KELOWNIAN WILL JUDGE FESTIVAL

NELSON (CP) — J. P. Ferguson of Kelowna will judge 11 one-act plays entered in the annual West Kootenay Drama Festival which opens in Nelson tonight. Winners will be announced Saturday night.

Entries were received from Fruitvale, Kinnaird, Grand Forks, Trail, South Slokan, Kaslo and Nelson.

T. B. Reece Flown To Vancouver

T. B. Reece, of Westbank, who was seriously injured in a two-car collision on Highway 97, five miles south of Kelowna April 6, yesterday afternoon was flown to Vancouver where he will undergo additional medical treatment.

Kelowna ambulance took Mr. Reece to the Penticon airport where he was placed aboard the Westbound CPA flight.

An attending physician said the 72-year-old retired Westbank orchardist has made satisfactory progress. In Vancouver he will undergo an operation on his throat.

Meanwhile the inquest into the death of four people killed in the crash, has been adjourned indefinitely, pending Mr. Reece's recovery. Richard Thut, 12, of Sooke, is also recovering from a fractured pelvis. His condition is reported good.

Valley Water Board Urged

PENTICON (CP) — A government irrigation board to administer the entire Okanagan and Fraser Valley has been advocated by B.C. Liberal Leader Arthur Laming.

He told the annual meeting of the Similkameen Liberal Association that all irrigation districts should be taken over by the government.

"I'd like to see help for the grower at the production level, rather than subsidies," said Mr. Laming. Irrigation was one of many topics he touched on during a 75-minute address before 28 district Liberals.

New City Rules On Left Turns

VERNON — Vernon city council has agreed to remove restrictions governing left-hand turns at 30th Street and Barnard Avenue.

However, at the corner of 32nd Street and Barnard no left turns will be permitted at all—on any day, at any time.

Restrictions governing these turns at the two traffic lights on Barnard Avenue during certain hours, were instituted by 1958 city council.

Education Program Will Precede Vote

Plans for extension of Kelowna city boundaries have reached the final stage.

Only a few minor points are left to be ironed out before an education program gets under way preceding the actual vote.

The proposed extension would take in Five Bridges, Woodlawn, Cameron subdivision, Meikle subdivision, South Pandosy and Glenmore.

It would boost the city acreage to about 4,000 acres from the present 1,500.

Last night representatives from Glenmore municipal council, Kelowna city council and the boundary extension committee conferred to finalize details.

THREE STEPS

Three major steps will be taken in the education campaign. These include bringing Professor Peter Oberlander here to address organized meetings; distributing abstract reports in pamphlet form of the Oberlander report on extension of boundaries; and hiring an employee of the Oberlander firm to supervise the circulation of the petition in rural areas. This latter move was only approved after a lengthy discussion.

Several representatives felt local residents should carry the petition, while others felt a completely unbiased, but well-informed person, able to answer questions on the matter, should be engaged.

About 600 resident landowners will have to be canvassed with the petition to signify whether, or not they wish to join the city. At least 60 per cent of those eligible must be in favor of the move. Glenmore and Kelowna will vote by ballot.

Stanley Farrow told the meeting the education program should start as soon as possible, and not allowed to drag out. He remarked there are individuals currently canvassing their districts, opposing the boundary extension.

"Many minds are being made up right now," he declared.

Ronald Prosser replied "No one is trying to sell anyone a bill of goods. Amalgamation is just as good for the outside as it is for the city."

An hour-long debate on what figures to use in the education program resulted in a decision to use those supplied in the 1957 Oberlander report, showing what it will cost the city and what the city will gain in return.

It was pointed out that for the amount of knowledge to be gained, it would be a waste of time and money to bring the figures up to date.

CPA Pilot's Skill Voids Flight Peril

Westbound passengers on Canadian Pacific Airlines' flight had a few anxious moments yesterday afternoon when one of the two nose-wheel tires went soft on takeoff from Cranbrook.

But thanks to the skill of Captain Dennis Harland, a perfect landing was made at Penticon airport.

Before landing, the heavier passengers were moved to the rear of the Convair aircraft. This enabled the pilot to keep the nose-wheel in the air as long as possible when he eased the plane down on the runway.

Capt. Harland purposely passed up Castlegar, which does not have a hard-surfaced runway. Meanwhile CPA's DC 3 flight to Kelowna was diverted to Penticon after landing here at 3:40 p.m. The DC3 picked up Castlegar-bound passengers, took them to their destination, and took aboard 16 people who were scheduled to catch the westbound Convair. CPA also sent another plane from Vancouver and east-bound passengers were transferred to this aircraft at Penticon.

Several representatives felt local residents should carry the petition, while others felt a completely unbiased, but well-informed person, able to answer questions on the matter, should be engaged.

About 600 resident landowners will have to be canvassed with the petition to signify whether, or not they wish to join the city. At least 60 per cent of those eligible must be in favor of the move. Glenmore and Kelowna will vote by ballot.

PAY HIKED $29 TO $45 MONTHLY

Kelowna Firemen Boosted

Increases in pay from $29 to $45 monthly, as well as more paid holidays and sick leave with pay, were awarded by a conciliation board to Kelowna's paid firemen.

In addition, the conciliation board, in a unanimous decision, awarded a $10 monthly increase for 1960 over the 1959 rate. A two-year contract, as determined by the three-man conciliation board, is expected to be signed shortly, between Local 953, International Association of Fire Fighters and the Corporation of the City of Kelowna.

The board noted that "such wages include therein any services in connection with the maintenance of the fire-fighting equipment operated by the fire fighters in Kelowna."

The award, binding on both parties, calls for the following wage scale for 1959 (salaries of lawyer and former MP, chairman; Dan Radford, also of Penticon, representing the firemen.

First year firemen, $295 ($250); second year, $320 ($281); third year, $340 ($300); fourth year, $370 ($328). All classifications will get a $10 monthly increase in 1960.

The firemen also will get two weeks' paid holidays, plus 10 statutory holidays, with pay, instead of seven statutory holidays under the old agreement. An additional week of paid holidays goes to firemen with 10 years of service. (Only two of the present staff are affected by this award.)

The award also gives the firemen 21 days sick leave, accumulating to 35 in one year, instead of 14 days accumulating to 21. Conciliation boards consisted of Frank Christian, Penticon wage scale for 1959 (salaries of lawyer and former MP, chairman; Dan Radford, also of Penticon, representing the firemen.

Middle Class Taxpayers Contribute Taxation Bulk

Considered solely on the basis of annual income, the Canadian middle class is changing. Evidence of this comes from a government publication entitled "Taxation Statistics 1958", issued by the taxation division of the Department of National Revenue.

One of the tables in this useful book gives a distribution of taxpayers by income classes for the taxation years 1941 to 1956. It shows that in the earlier year the largest group of taxpayers was composed of those earning from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. There were 368,862 in that group out of a total of 871,484 taxpayers. In 1956, the number of taxpayers was more than four times as large, at 3,908,176. The largest taxpaying group had shifted to those earning from $3,000 to $4,000 a year. They out-numbered 1,015,449, while the group below them, earning from $2,000 to $3,000 had 993,830 members.

In 1956, as in 1941, it was the middle and lower classes of taxpayers upon whom the receiver-general of Canada depended for the bulk of his support. In spite of the steeply graduated income tax, which takes the biggest bite from the largest incomes, more than half of the income tax payable in 1956 came from incomes of $6,000 or less a year. About one-sixth of the grand total came from the class earning from $3,000 to $4,000.

It is possible, even probable, that these taxpayers do not realize their importance in the country's economy. Except for those who are self-employed they never handle the millions that they contribute to Ottawa. They may not even realize that their earnings are actually as large as the figures show, for it is their take-home pay that matters in their personal financing. Their income taxes are almost as invisible to them as the sales and excise taxes that are hidden in the cost of everything they buy. They feel the cost of living, but they are not encouraged to relate it to governmental extravagance.

High Life For Soviet Bosses

Communist propagandists like to paint a rosy picture of life in the Soviet Union. But the fact is that the only people for whom life is a bed of roses are the Soviet bosses and their puppets in the satellite countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Such was the view expressed recently before a Congressional committee in Washington by a former member of the elite Guard Directorate of the Soviet secret police, Peter S. Deriabin. For ten years, before he chose freedom in the West, Mr. Deriabin was engaged in intelligence work for the Soviet Union.

One example of high life in the USSR cited by Mr. Deriabin concerns a Soviet Minister of Railway Transport who built a 25-mile railway spur from Moscow to his country estate in order to run a special train for guests attending his daughter's wedding party!

Soviet communist party bigwigs, says Mr. Deriabin, lack nothing in the luxuries and special privileges. They are provided with cars and chauffeurs, with fine Moscow apartments and equally fine country villas, with private hospitals, stores, and a limitless supply of the latest medical services for their exclusive use.

Communist puppet leaders in the satellite countries, says Mr. Deriabin, are careful to stash away lots of money in foreign banks in Switzerland and other "capitalist" countries, as a safeguard against a rainy day when their popularity with the Kremlin might wane.

There is no reason to suppose that Mr. Deriabin's account of high life among communist bigwigs behind the Iron Curtain is exaggerated. After all, when the government and the communist party are in absolute control, as they are in the Soviet Union, they are also the absolute bosses of the country, responsible to no one but themselves. Under the circumstances, it isn't surprising that Soviet bigwigs like to live high on the hog. Nor is it surprising that they are able to do so and get away with it.

ANOTHER SUMMIT

Dulles Policy Maker For Several Administrations

WASHINGTON (CP) — State Secretary John Foster Dulles, whose resignation has been announced by President Eisenhower, has served several administrations as a policy-maker. Dulles became secretary of state Jan. 21, 1953, following in the footsteps of his maternal grandfather, John Watson Foster, who also held the cabinet post.

He had been prepared for the position through most of his adult life and had been active in foreign affairs for years, often in a controversial way.

Attacks on Dulles reached a peak during the 1956 presidential campaign, based on his policies in the Middle East at the time of the Suez Canal crisis. He opposed Israel - French - British moves in Egypt then, while criticizing the belligerent tactics of Egypt's President Nasser.

SERVED DEWEY

Dulles became a figure on the world stage toward the end of the Second World War when he served as foreign affairs adviser to the Republican presidential candidate, governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

He strove to keep the issue of U.S. membership in the United Nations out of domestic politics and was a member of the U.S. delegation to the formation conference of the UN in San Francisco in 1945. He attended meetings of the UN for years as a member of the U.S. delegation. He helped work out plans for NATO.

He served with state secretary James F. Byrnes in drafting Second World War peace treaties with countries of Eastern Europe and with state secretary George C. Marshall in the early, unsuccessful negotiations for a German peace settlement.

In 1949, he was for a few months a U.S. senator from New York, appointed by Dewey.

OUTSTANDING FEAT

Dulles himself says one of his outstanding accomplishments was the negotiation in 1950-51 of a treaty of peace with Japan. Since 1953 he travelled hundreds of thousands of miles by air to negotiate or confer with all the principal political leaders of the world except those of Communist China.

He helped make good Eisenhower's 1952 campaign pledge to end the war in Korea. In 1954 — enunciated the controversial doctrine of "massive retaliation."

In 1955 — accompanied Eisenhower to the summit conference in Geneva.

Dulles was only 29 when president Woodrow Wilson assigned him his first diplomatic mission. That was in 1917, after the U.S. had broken relations with Germany, when he negotiated with Central American countries for the safety of the Panama Canal. He later served as counsel to the American delegation at the Versailles Peace Treaty negotiations.

OTTAWA REPORT

Nfld. Critic Gets Permit

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Under the dogma of "Let's not be nasty to the Grits," open-handed generosity is being shown to some of those who have most furiously attacked the Federal government in the recent Newfoundland controversy.

A strong critic is Geoff Stirling, a long-time supporter of Newfoundland's Liberal premier, Joey Smallwood. Stirling reputedly founded and still publishes the "Weekly Herald" newspaper in Newfoundland.

So close is his association with the Liberal party that, against the recommendation of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, he was able to obtain both radio and TV broadcasting licences in St. John's, Newfoundland, under the former Liberal rule at Ottawa. It was widely reported that Premier Smallwood and ex-Liberal Cabinet Minister Pickersgill must have intervened directly with the federal government on his behalf, to have the CBC overruled and get the licences issued to him.

Mr. Stirling later also took over the operation of the French-language radio station CPMS in Montreal.

His direct or indirect investment in, or interest in the profits of those three stations are believed to exceed the 100 per cent ownership of one station, which had previously been the maximum permissible ownership in private broadcasting stations.

NEWFIE VERSUS OTTAWA

The Newfoundland "Weekly Herald" has been commenting bitterly on Ottawa's stand in the quarrels which have been picked by Newfoundland's premier. Typical was this editorial suggestion as to our Prime Minister's motives, in what that paper describes as the "unspeakable and indescribable betrayal of Newfoundland."

"BETRAYED"

"Mr. Diefenbaker has set himself up as the grand-daddy of those who will go to any length to satisfy personal enmity."

Twice under the former Liberal government, Mr. Stirling applied to the CBC for a further licence, to operate also an English-language radio station in Montreal; both times the CBC rejected his application. Last month he made a third application, this time to the newly-appointed board of broadcast governors, who after a very thorough study, recommended that the government should give him that licence.

The BBC is responsible for hearing applications for licences for broadcasting stations, and recommends thereon to the government. The department of transport is responsible for verifying the technical feasibility of the application. According to the legislation, no licence is then issued until the governor in council, which means the cabinet, signifies its approval.

A CLOSE LOOK TO COME?

Very, very bitter resentment has been aroused in influential quarters in the province of Quebec, by the recommendation that a further licence should be issued to Mr. Stirling in Montreal. This resentment is naturally noted among Quebec would-be broadcasters, who consider that they have prior claims and could perform a better community service than this invader from Newfoundland. Resentment is also noted among strong Quebecers, who recall the livid Labrador boundary dispute between their province and Newfoundland; and among anti-Liberals who anticipate that the proposed station would broadcast more of the same diet as is heard from Stirling's other English-language mass communication media.

If this licence is granted by the government, it will presumably indicate a new policy towards multiple station ownership, in view of Mr. Stirling's other interests.

The granting of this licence would also demonstrate to every student of politics a very interesting alternative. Either the BBC is the most, unprecedentedly independent and unfettered agency ever set up by any Canadian government, or else influence pedlars at work behind the scenes value personal gain more highly than party benefit.

Aussies Wonder Whether They Have New Neighbor

By WARREN WHITE

Canadian Press Correspondent

MELBOURNE (CP) — Australian are beginning to wonder whether they have gained Russia as a permanent new neighbor. In Antarctica, 2,000 miles to the south.

The recent International Geophysical Year brought to the Antarctic the scientists of several countries and led to far-reaching discoveries.

Australia, which claims a large slice of the territory, now finds a 100-man Russian expedition still camped on that particular slice and with every apparent intention of remaining at "the bottom of the world."

Leader of the Russian expedition, Mr. Mikhail Somov, in a recent visit to Australia to discuss Antarctic research results, said in a press interview: "as South Pole itself and the pole of long as there is need for scientific investigation the Soviet expedition will be in Antarctica."

RUSSIAN MYSTERY MAN

This "mystery man" of the Soviet expedition who in 1950 started a feat which made history—drifting 376 days on a north polar ice floe—told something of the Russian discoveries.

A branch of his expedition in the Antarctic, in the middle of last winter recorded a minimum low temperature of minus 125.3 Fahrenheit — so cold that gasoline turned to jelly.

The Russians have done a considerable amount of exploring around the pole of inaccessibility — the most interior point of the Antarctic Continent.

Somov said: "Near the pole of inaccessibility we found the ice was 12,250 feet thick. That is a record—it is deeper than the ice at the South Pole itself." The pole itself is set off to one side of the roughly circular continent.

Somov described preparations for a Russian trans-Antarctica attempt to begin in October. The crossing would be over 3,750 miles—1,500 miles farther than Sir Vivian Fuchs covered last season.

The Russians would use huge tractors named Kharkovchankas. Each would carry two drivers, a navigator, a radio operator and 12 scientists.

The big snow vehicles each contain bunks, a kitchen, armchairs, a radio room, snow melter and laboratory. And each 35-ton, 550-horsepower tractor can tow fuel sledges.

The expedition plans to travel via the Geomagnetic pole, the said in a press interview: "as South Pole itself and the pole of inaccessibility."

FRIENDS WITH AMERICANS

Somov said: "At the South Pole our expedition will celebrate with the Americans who live there. We are all friends in Antarctica. Antarctic men here consider the Russian route one of the hard-polar ice floe—told something of the Russian discoveries."

NO FRICTION

Perhaps the inaccessibility of these minerals for the time being has been the main reason for lack of international friction in Antarctica.

Despite the fact that the Australian government has admitted the Russians intend to stay on the Australian-claimed territory in Antarctica, there cannot be said to be international tension.

The reverse is true. An Australian explorer said: "any Antarctic observers believe possibly the most important discovery made in the Antarctic in recent years is that at the bottom of the world, men of science of 12 nations can co-operate to exchange ideas and data on a scale previously unknown."

Royal Tour Officials Make "Dry Run" April 22

VERNON — A party of Royal Tour officials, headed by General Howard D. Graham, will be in Vernon on Wednesday to make a "dry run" on arrangements for the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip on July 11.

Purpose of the tour is to check all arrangements to receive the Queen, and to make any last-minute changes that are necessary. Mayor Frank Becker and J. S. Monk are general chairman and co-ordinating chairman respectively. They have promised details of the days' arrangements when they are permitted to release them. They expect 35,000 people will converge on Vernon to see Her Majesty and Prince Philip. Vernon is the only Okanagan community on the official itinerary of the Royal Tour.

As previously announced, Vernon branch, the Canadian Legion, is arranging to have all veterans of the South African War in the Okanagan Valley, parade here on July 11.

Included in the group to visit this city next week will be Esmond Butler, assistant press secretary at Buckingham Palace; Assistant RCMP Commissioner Douglas Forest; Jack Hughes, in charge of photo coverage; and E. R. Beddoe, from the department of finance, in charge of accommodation arrangements.

Mr. Butler flew from London last week to make the tour, which starts in Saint John's Newfoundland. On April 21, the officials will land at Salmon Arm airport. Next day, besides visiting Vernon, Douglas Forest, Jack Hughes, and E. R. Beddoe, will go to Kamloops and Chilliwack, and then on to Vancouver and Nanaimo.

DAD WILL BE GUEST OF SON AT BANQUET OF SCOUT TROOP

Dad will be his lad's guest on Friday at the Anglican Parish Hall, when the 4th Kelowna Scout Troop and Cub Pack annual Father and Son banquet is held at 6:30 p.m.

Special guests will include Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole, District Commissioner Dr. H. R. Henderson, District Scoutmaster Des Oswald, District Cubmaster Harold Willett, and chairman of the District Council Dr. M. R. Leitch.

A turkey dinner will be provided by the ladies' auxiliary, and a special film will be shown.

The committee in charge of arrangements expressed the hope that every father would make a special effort to attend, so that no boy will be disappointed.

Cancer Funds Enable B.C. Lead In Research

New diagnostic facilities being built this year in Vancouver with cancer funds will enable B.C. to lead the way in controlling one important form of cancer in women—cancer of the cervix.

That is the goal of cancer researchers who have spent ten years proving the value of smear tests to prepare the way for a final program to wipe out this type of cancer among B.C. women.

That program will get under way with the completion of a $225,000 addition to the cytology laboratory at B.C. Cancer Institute being built under the direction of the B.C. Cancer Foundation.

It will provide vitally needed facilities for a stepped-up program of analyzing smear test slides sent by doctors from all over the province.

F. C. Bunce, chairman of the Kelowna Conquer Cancer committee, said that cancer control authorities hope that a simple cancer smear test for women will become as common in British Columbia as an annual TB chest x-ray.

To achieve this goal, a new education program explaining the value and simplicity of these tests to doctors and women will be needed, along with more technicians to assess the increasing diagnostic workload. He said the cancer society is planning the education program now.

Dr. H. K. Fidler, pathology director at Vancouver General Hospital and one of the researchers who has pioneered this project with the help of cancer funds, believes that universal use of uterine smear tests can control cancer of the cervix.

This form of cancer accounted for approximately 650 deaths among Canadian women last year and was exceeded only by cancer of the breast, intestine and stomach.

Dr. John Heller, director of the U.S. National Cancer Institute, out cancer of the cervix," he said. Cytology, in its simplest forms, is the analysis and assessment of the origin, structure and function of cells shed by the human body.

Board Favors Chronic Treatment Unit As Part Of General Hospital

The Kelowna hospital board has stated it is in favor of a chronic treatment unit for Kelowna, but it should be a part of the General Hospital.

This was outlined at Wednesday's annual meeting of the board by R. P. Walrod, acting president of the group. Mr. Walrod said "the board is naturally interested in a chronic hospital in which the type of patient cared for may be rehabilitated, and considers this type of service to be directly in its field of responsibility."

He continued: "We believe the best prospect of securing a chronic hospital lies in mobilization of opinion and support for a program in which the required facilities would be integrated into plans for an extension to the Kelowna General."

Mr. Walrod stressed the importance of understanding the difference between "nursing home" and "chronic care," and that areas of responsibility for each be clearly defined.

A nursing home, he said, would be a place where individuals who are bedridden or partially disabled, would receive "long-term care."

Recently the president of the local senior citizen's club, Ernest Pearce, obtained more than 2,000 signatures on a petition for the establishment of a chronic unit here.

Nursing homes, as they are defined, do not come under the provincial grants-in-aid program for hospital construction, nor will the government aid in defraying operating deficits.

Said Mr. Walrod: "If this community is to have a nursing home, it is the direct obligation of the citizens, through contribution to a public body or of the taxpayers through the city, to pay for it."

Earlier, Mr. Pearce was adamant in asking for a chronic hospital rather than a nursing home. "We know what we want," he said—"we never asked for a nursing home."

A local druggist, Harold Long, has been elected to the board of directors of the Kelowna Hospital Society.

He was named at Wednesday's annual meeting of that body. The meeting opened with a moment of silence in memory of J. I. Monteth, late president of the board, who died last month.

Three other board members were returned to the directorate. They were: W. E. Arams, Mrs. Agnes Cormack and F. J. Willis.

The president and vice-president of the group will be named by the present executive at a later meeting.

City Jaycees Again Sponsor Clean-Up Week

VERNON — Vernon City Council and Junior Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor the annual clean-up drive starting next Monday, April 20, through to May 1.

This service is free. However, citizens are asked to have all rubbish lined up and stacked conveniently for pickup by Monday to assist in the efficiency and economy of this operation.

Trade Board Will Assist Legion Band

The local Canadian Legion Pipe Band will receive a $50 grant from the Kelowna board of trade to help defray expenses on their trip to the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival. The event will take place May 1 and 2.

The band had originally requested $100, but the board declined and instead suggested the tourist bureau supply the additional funds.

WEST SIDE AMBULANCE USERS PAY MORE TO CROSS BRIDGE

Kelowna's new ambulance is costing users on the west side of the lake a little more than charged for the old ambulance.

This is due to the classification of the new ambulance as a commercial vehicle by Okanagan-Lake Bridge employees. The city has had to buy a $60 bridge ticket, good for 100 trips over at 60 cents each.

The old unit still can go through the toll gate on the 25-cent ticket. The extra 35 cents charged both ways for the new ambulance is passed on to the customer.

Winfield Considers Acquiring Park; Deed Ready For Disposal Grounds

WINFIELD — The regular monthly meeting of the Farmer's Institute was held in the club room of Memorial Hall, with 10 members present. In the absence of President R. Berry, Vice-President Carl Handl was in the chair.

The need of a recreation park for the senior citizens was mentioned and various locations were considered. It was decided that a committee should look into the possibility of acquiring a piece of land centrally located for development of a park.

The garbage disposal committee reported that the deed for a garbage dump is being registered and that the committee is working on details of operating the dump.

The committee, working with the Women's Institute on the building of a floating dock for the use of Red Cross swimming classes and other swimmers, reported the building was held up at present owing to the lack of cedar poles for its base.

"At the close" of the meeting a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Okanagan Scouts May Have Solved Money Troubles

Scouts in the Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon areas may have found a permanent method for raising funds for themselves through paper drives.

Last week, the first load, about 10 tons of old newspapers, left the Rowellite cannery, bound for a Wenatchee pulp company. The company uses the old papers in the manufacture of trays for packing apples, pears, peaches and avocados.

The factory at Wenatchee is one of the three in the U.S., and the only one west of the Mississippi. It can handle up to 100 tons per day.

The same trucks that deliver the trays to the Okanagan will pick up the papers destined for the factory.

Gayland Shows Makes 1959 Debut In Kelowna

By AL CAMPBELL
(Daily Courier Staff Writer)

MELVINA AND RON McIVOR, MEMBERS OF GAYLAND SHGWS WITH SHETLAND PONIES.

"We settled here by accident, and we haven't found a better place."

These were the words of E. G. "Tiny" Nichols, who with his partner, James "Abe" Greenway operate the Gayland Shows that opens here today.

He was referring to an accident on the Westside hill that wrecked one truck in his outfit in 1953, when the show was much smaller. The spread pulled in for repairs in a barn in the north end of the city, "Tiny" and "Abe" liked the place and they have wintered here ever since.

The accident could be called a blessing in disguise for many Kelownians, for in the six years Gayland has wintered here, the carnival has spent roughly $200,000 in Kelowna.

Most of the money is spent on building and maintenance materials for the shows' 28 rides, 12 trucks and numerous small concessions.

Hotel and motel keepers, too, have grown to appreciate the "carney" business.

Two weeks before the opening of the season, carnival workers from all ten Canadian provinces start rolling into town—with money to spend on food and shelter.

This year, Gayland Shows estimates their total expenditure in Kelowna at $40,000, and next year, with the acquisition of the Midwest Shows Ltd., Kelowna will have one of the biggest shows in Canada quartered here.

Gayland Shows has not always been the bustling, sprawling enterprise it is now.

In 1948 "Abe" and "Tiny" came out of the merchant marine with total capital amounting to $600.

"We only had one ferris wheel," reflected "Tiny", "and we made that one with a hacksaw."

At the present time, the outfit controls four factory-made and inspected ferris wheels, valued at $11,000 each.

Gayland, said to be the largest road show in Western Canada, travels some 20,000 miles per year in the four western provinces.

"Abe" and "Tiny" have been in show business for more than 25 years, having joined a show in Brantford, Ont., as young men. They then worked for a man named Eli Trepanier, who now operates one of the concessions for Gayland.

"Show people stick together," "Tiny" mused.

Stories of this "sticking together" are legend. One of "Tiny's" favorite instances of this co-operation occurred in a small prairie centre when the show was marooned on the "wrong side" of a washed-out bridge. "We couldn't move without a bridge—so we built one," he said simply.

"Tiny" is not too concerned over the possibility of being flooded out at their present spot on Doyle Avenue between Ellis and Water Streets. The weather has never been too kind to the carnival in Kelowna, and that's an understatement. Today is the first opening day since Gayland has been here it has not rained.

After a three-day engagement here, like the proverbial Arabs, Gayland will quietly fold their tents and steal away—at least for another six months.

Life Memberships Conferred By WCTU

Delegates from eight Okanagan points and from Kamloops, as well as executive officers from Vancouver attended the 49th Kamloops-Okanagan WCTU District Convention held here last week. Miss Florence E. Daly, of Kelowna was honored with a district life membership on this occasion, and a provincial life membership was conferred on Mrs. H. Milne, of Summerland, who presided at the conference.

Mrs. W. S. Watson, provincial president, was special speaker and punctuated her address with statements such as the fact that 80 per cent of the population use alcoholic beverages, and she warned that the greatest danger to that population is in the home.

FOUNDER HONORED

Frances Willard, founder and leader of the WCTU, was the recipient of many high honors in the U.S. and Canada, as well as abroad for her national and international services in the cause of temperance. She worked to restore broken family life and to raise the standard of living, and labored long for better education and improved social legislation.

Election of officers resulted in the choice of Mrs. H. Milne as president; corresponding secretary Mrs. H. DeWitt, Summerland; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Cass.

Ballet Training Gives Girl Grace

SASKATOON (CP) — Canadian girls are beautiful, "although a bit long in the back and big in the feet," says Peggy Whiteley, examiner for the Royal Academy of Dancing in London, England.

Here to examine the ballet students, Miss Whiteley also said in an interview that Canadian girls "do not have that funny little bit of discipline that we see in children in Europe."

The aim of young girls studying ballet is not to become professional ballet dancers, she said. The fact that professionals are sometimes chosen from this group is incidental.

"The main value of ballet training is to give a young girl poise and grace of movement. Ballet gives it to her as nothing else can. You will find that a child who has some ballet never goes through that awkward stage of wondering what to do with her hands and feet."

STAND STRAIGHT
"Girls learn to stand properly—straight and tall and graceful." The value of ballet training in physical education is being recognized in England. A number of schools teach it in addition to physical education courses.

Miss Whiteley said schools following this policy reported improvement not only in physical fitness but also in manners and deportment.

The Royal Academy of Dancing is the only organization in the world to examine for non-professional dancing, she added. Last year Royal Academy examiners went from London to many countries and examined 55,000 ballet students who follow the approved course of ballet education.

Girls taking this instruction range in age from six to 17.

Miss Jean Wilton, special counsellor for School District No. 23 was the speaker for the afternoon, and visitors from Okanagan Centre were welcomed for this occasion. Miss Wilton outlined the many types of cases she deals with in the course of her duty, and gave a fascinating insight into the problems encountered.

She welcomed questions from those present regarding personal problems of disturbed children, such as tantrums, pilfering, etc.

This most instructive and interesting speaker was thanked on behalf of the meeting by Mrs. N. Allingham.

Grey Nuns Founder Will Be Beatified

MONTREAL (CP) — Members of the Order of the Grey Nuns have collected mementoes of Venerable Marguerite d'Youville who may become the first native-born North American woman saint.

The relics, all at least 250 years old, concern the childhood, married life and religious career of the nun who founded the Sisters of Charity, known around the world as the Grey Nuns.

The possessions include her girlhood knife and fork set, inkwell and quill, household furniture and her prayer books. Born at Varennes, 15 miles east of Montreal, in 1701, she was educated at the Ursuline Convent in Quebec and in 1722 she married Francois d'Youville. They had two sons, both of whom became priests. Her husband died in 1730 and she became a nun. She died in 1771.

At special ceremonies in Rome in June she will be beatified as Blessed Mother d'Youville, one step away from canonization.

Color Prejudice Felt By Teacher

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — On paper, Edward Ricardo Braithwaite seemed highly employable.

Educated in the United States and Britain, he had graduated as a physicist and did post-graduate work at Cambridge University. He had also piloted Spitfires during the Second World War.

With ambitions to work in Britain in the electronics field, he set about trying to find a job which would enable him to use his specialized training. But when employers found he was a Negro they made all manner of excuses.

Angry and bitter, with his war gratuity rapidly dwindling, Braithwaite took up a teaching career inspired by a casual conversation with a stranger in a London park. Since then, he has become Britain's only Negro child welfare officer.

In his first novel, 'To Sir With Love', Braithwaite, now 36, tells of his encounter with color prejudice in Britain and about the trials and satisfactions of teaching in a London slum area.

Born in Georgetown, British Guiana, Braithwaite talks about the feelings of colonial people towards Britain.

STRONG TIES

"The ties which bind them are strong, and this is very apparent on each occasion of a royal visit... yes, it is wonderful to be British—until one comes to Britain."

"The Briton at home takes no responsibility for the protestations and promises made in his name by British officials overseas."

Reflecting on his experiences in the United States, the author says Britons, in criticizing instances of open, obvious prejudice among Americans, frequently fail to realize that the U.S. has granted to its Negro citizens more opportunities for advancement and betterment than any other nation in the world with an indigent Negro population.

"In Britain I found things to be very different. I have yet to meet a single English person who has actually admitted to anti-Negro prejudice: it is even generally believed that no such thing exists here."

Braithwaite's book concentrates chiefly on his experiences teaching a class of boys and girls in a school run on non-authoritarian lines. He writes perceptively of a teacher's problems, the nature of racial misunderstanding, and the satisfaction of achievement.

He looks at life philosophically: "Nowadays I don't go about thinking I am a colored man up against it. The less I think about it, the less other people think about it. I do not wear any armor against people. Friendliness disarms."

Chaplin's "Little Man" Will Be Resurrected

LONDON (Reuters) — Movie veteran Charlie Chaplin plans to recreate his howler-hatted, cane-wielding "little man" as the hero of his first color film.

The Daily Herald quotes Chaplin, 70 Thursday, as saying "the film will be a ballet slapstick in color, complete with all the works."

Chaplin gave up the role of the "little man" after his 1936 movie Modern Times. He then appeared in many different roles in such films as The Great Dictator, Monsieur Verdoux and A King in New York.

"I was wrong to kill him," Chaplin said. "There is room for the 'little man' in the atomic age."

"CROSSOUT" CONTEST

GAME No. 7

Copyright: Canada & U.S. Patent Pending - U.S. (C) 1937, 1954, 1956, 1957 and 1958; Canada (C) 1956, 1957 and 1958 by "Cross-Out" Adv. Co., Inc., Box 551, St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A.

RULES - IMPORTANT * READ CAREFULLY

- Place an X in pencil over the alphabet letter to right of the number on your card. If the same number appears properly in the SUPER-VALU ad.
- In each week's SUPER-VALU newspaper ad 30 numbers will be enclosed in a square-circle-diamond, etc. You can match these numbers on any card.
- If you have five consecutive numbers in a row - down, across or diagonally - you have a winning card. To receive your gift, return the card as instructed on the back of the card.
- Numbers on your card are to be matched against numbers in the SUPER-VALU newspaper ad. Check the SUPER-VALU newspaper carefully. Newspaper ads will be posted in every SUPER-VALU Store each week. Fun for all the family.
- Cards can be played on any of the newspaper ads during the twelve weeks but cards are winners and redeemable only if played on an individual week's newspaper ad and are surrounded by the same shape: circle, square, diamond, etc.
- We reserve the right to correct any typographical or other error or errors which might appear in any published matter in connection with this game, and to reject winning cards not obtained through legitimate channels.
- "Crossout" cards are given away freely at all SUPER-VALU stores, no purchases are required.
- Elimination contest will be held if cards are returned in excess of major prizes to be awarded.

Opening lead—Jack of spades.
The Italian team gave a magnificent performance in slam bidding. They played rings around the Americans when the question of bidding or avoiding a slam arose.

The Italians contracted for 11 slams in the course of the 156-board match. They made nine of them. In the two deals they were defeated—the contract was sound, but the adverse distribution was such that the slams could not be made. Not once did the Italian team fail to bid a slam that the United States team bid and made.

The American record suffered greatly by comparison. The United States representatives bid nine slams. Four of them were defeated—all hopeless contracts. Italy gained 35 IMPs in the 14 deals where a slam was bid by one side or the other. Italy defeated America in the match by 50 IMPs. The slam record speaks volumes.

One of the slams bid by Forquet-Siniscalco and not reached by the American pair is shown here. The strange (to us) four diamond bid by Forquet initiated the slam effort. It guaranteed, Gerald and the Gene Krupa and within their partnership, heart, Gerry Mulligan quartets are support.

Breast Patients Told: Refrain From Self-Pity

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Each year about 50,000 American women undergo breast surgery. As of right now, there are approximately 1,000,000 women in the United States who have undergone such surgery of the breast.

COMMON OPERATION

While still a serious operation, it has become so common that most women who need such surgery take it in stride. The chief concern of many doctors is not so much for the operation itself, but for the manner in which the patient reacts during convalescence.

As during the recovery from any illness or operation, activities, of course, must be guided by the doctor. The right mental attitude is highly important, too.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS

I would like to pass on a few suggestions to the women who will have breast surgery in the next year, and to those who have had it recently.

One of the main things to guard against is self-pity. Don't pamper yourself and don't let your family pamper you. A little sympathy is expected, of course, and even needed, but don't let it get out of hand.

A great many persons pamper or themselves by over-eating. Generally, this is inadvisable for anyone, especially those of you who have just undergone breast surgery.

Unless your doctor advises you to gain weight, adding extra pounds rapidly could delay your normal recovery processes and cause complications.

Take up your old hobbies again or, if you never had any, this is a fine time to start some new ones. Sewing, knitting and weaving are among the most popular for housewives, but it might be fun to give drawing or painting a try, too.

HOLME HALE, England (CP) Council of this Norfolk village, having been taken from monopoly of the public telephone with calls to American airmen, has asked the Post Office to put a 10-minute limit on calls to the air base near here. Some girls take more than an hour to make a date, says the postmistress.

This will help you to overcome self-consciousness and the temporary mental and physical embarrassment you probably will experience after surgery such as this.

Your doctor can help brighten your mental attitude as he aids your physical condition.

Be sure to visit him just as frequently as he advises for checkups. Various complaints, such as pains in your other breast, are not at all unusual under the circumstances. But report them to your physician just the same!

Trust him and follow his recommendations precisely.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C. B. A.: How can I get rid of callus?

Answer: Calluses are usually due to pressure or friction. Properly fitted shoes and protection with pads or moleskins will often help prevent or relieve them. Sometimes calluses should be trimmed before other measures will be successful.

Norwich Nipped In Win String By Bury XI

LONDON (CP)—Norwich City, this year's giant-killers in the Football Association Cup, ended one of the greatest unbeaten runs in the Football League Tuesday night as Bury downed the Norfolk team.

It was Norwich's first defeat in 17 Third Division games and ended a four-month success spell in both league and cup soccer. The longest unbeaten run in modern league soccer was in 1920-21 when Burnley went 30 games without defeat.

The run has taken Norwich City from 18th to fourth place in the Third Division. But the loss virtually killed any hopes of promotion to the second division.

In the FA Cup, Norwich reached the semi-final after beating such talented opposition as Manchester United, Cardiff City, Tottenham Hotspur and Sheffield United. In the semi-final, Norwich drew with Luton Town before going out in the replay.

FOR TOMORROW

You may experience some confusing situations now, but don't let them get you down. Instead, face up to conditions with eyes wide open and see where you can rectify them. Planetary influences continue to benefit those in the artistic professions.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, pitfalls this year, but in laying the foundation for a brighter future. The time has come to make practical use of the knowledge and experience you have acquired since the beginning of 1959. Much of what you have learned in the art of dealing with difficult persons, will test the typically Aries mettle, of the serious results of being needed when progress seems slow. Extravagance and of the patience May, September and November, needed when progress seems slow. Actually, if you use good judgment, will prove of great value—not in all matters and curb only in circumventing possible your innate aggressiveness, which often antagonizes others, you should have an excellent year. June, July and October will be fine for job and money matters, and December will be an all-around good month. Be conservative in money matters during August and November, however, and look for a fine period of business expansion in early 1960. Hungarians Living Abroad Give $1,500,000 For Buying Gifts

By HENDERSON GALL
BUDAPEST (Reuters)—Thousands of Hungarians living abroad contribute more than $1,500,000 a year to a state enterprise known as IKKA to buy gifts—ranging from an automobile to a tin of coffee or a vacation on Lake Balaton—for their relatives and friends at home.

About half of this sum is believed to come from Hungarians in the United States and Canada. Some non-Hungarians also contribute.

One of the services provided by IKKA is to arrange the upkeep and decoration of family graves in various parts of the world.

Of the 8,000 to 10,000 packages and parcels issued each month by the IKKA staff of 50 to local assistance received through IKKA, between 35 and 40 per cent represent food parcels, builder.

The cheapest, containing coffee, tea, rice and one bottle of spirits, costs $11 on the IKKA price list. The most expensive costs $25.

Refrigerators are the most popular single item with Hungarians taken up with household goods, appliances and building materials.

Laszlo Varkonyi, deputy manager of IKKA, says the demand for building materials, bricks, cement, roof tiles and wood has increased enormously in the last few years.

This is apparently because, in the present housing shortage, the relatives are rich enough, only way many Hungarians can hope to find a home is to build one themselves. Thus, partial as-

Fulton Aims To Tighten Northland

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP, whose northern duties long have extended beyond the realms of routine police work, may be enabled shortly to shift more of them elsewhere.

This is one possibility arising from an 11-day trip just completed by Justice Minister Fulton through the western part of the mainland Northwest Territories.

He said in an interview that he will look into the clarification of RCMP duties with a view to co-ordination of federal agencies' responsibility for northern natives and other functions.

Possible overlapping of administration might be avoided as a result, Mr. Fulton said. He indicated he probably will discuss it with Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton, Citizenship Minister Ellen Fairclough, who is responsible for Indian affairs, Health Minister Monteith and perhaps Works Minister Green or Transport Minister Hees.

Labor Lively Issue In Sask. Legislature

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan legislature, elected by a predominantly farming population, had its liveliest debates this year while discussing labor.

A. P. Weber, Social Credit House leader, introduced labor in the sessions' first week by backing Premier Joseph Smallwood in Newfoundland's loggers dispute. Mr. Weber called for legislation to keep unions not affiliated with a Canadian-dominated union out of Saskatchewan.

CALLED VULTURES
Referring particularly to the South Saskatchewan Dam project, Mr. Weber said the International Teamsters Union was hovering like a vulture waiting to pounce on its prey. Work on the dam is expected to be in full swing this summer.

The CCF government's reply came from W. G. Davies, member for Moose Jaw, who said any foreign-dominance in the Newfoundland dispute is on the side of the companies, not labor. He described Mr. Weber's remarks as an unwarranted reflection on the trade union movement.

While deploring corruption found in union administration in North America, Mr. Davies said Canada has had numerous examples of corruption in government but this has not led to condemnation of government as an institution.

Asmundur Leptson (L—Saltcoats) accused United States labor leaders of fomenting strikes in Canadian industries so that they cannot compete with American industries. He added that "every union leader in Eastern Canada is coaching his members to vote CCF."

Vic Damone, Pier Battle For Child

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"All I want is to see my son—I don't want to be a bad guy," said Vic Damone.

Ahd from Denmark came the angry voice of the singer's divorced wife, Pier Angeli.

"Nobody can ever take my son from me."

The petite Italian actress flew from Hollywood to Copenhagen with their three-year-old son, Perry.

The trip was in violation of a court order obtained by Damone—restraining Miss Angeli from taking the child out of California. She told a reporter on Copenhagen her ex-husband had given her oral permission to take Perry with her.

Damone had a different version of the dispute. He blamed his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Enrica Pierangeli, for much of the trouble.

The couple was married in November, 1954, and divorced last December. Miss Angeli got custody of the child and Damone was given visiting privileges.

Truckers Fight Ottawa's Rail Line Subsidy

OTTAWA (CP)—A suggestion that truckers might have to submit to federal control before getting concessions from the central government has been made before the Commons railway committee.

Former transport minister Lionel Chevrier L. — Montreal Laurier threw in the idea as Canadian Trucking Associations Incorporated, representing country-wide highway transport firms, sought to block a government measure for a $20,000,000 subsidy to reduce full freight rates.

CTA executive secretary John Magee said his association's policy is for continuance of the present control system, whereby provincial bodies have jurisdiction.

"We're not asking for a subsidy in this case," Mr. Magee said. "All we ask is that this (subsidy) bill not be passed."

Visit With Bearded Hermit Like Step Into Last Century

GRAND TOWER, Ill. (AP)—A. He never married, and until visit with Dewey Walker is like clearing his portion of the woods stepping into the last century. worked as a hired hand around the area.

Walker is a bearded hermit who has built his own house, makes his own shoes and grinds his own corn with a home-made mill fashioned from two pieces of limestone.

He is 61 and has lived alone 15 years in a wooded area near the Mississippi River in south-western Illinois. There is no road to the clearing where he has constructed a one-room log house.

He has few complaints. One he mentioned was the shortage of flux thread, which he needs to make his shoes from discarded tire castings. Cotton thread doesn't wear well, he said.

Walker built his heavy grindstone mill for the corn he grows in the clearing. He grows most of his food. Anything else he needs—thread, tobacco or lard—he gets by bartering with an occasional passing neighbor.

"I don't remember the last time I went to town," he says. He receives no pension or relief money, but once in a while he trades a few hours work for a distant neighbor for a few things from Grand Tower, a town of 1,000 population.

Walker's house is the work of a 19th-century craftsman. He learned woodworking as a boy and was employed in a sawmill until 1910, not far from where he now lives.

Brokerage Firm Head Will Be Apprehended

TORONTO (CP)—Police have issued a warrant for the arrest of a former office manager of a Toronto brokerage firm on nine charges involving theft of $74,000, forgery and falsifying records.

The warrant was issued following a seven-month investigation by the Ontario Securities Commission into allegations of theft from Frank S. Leslie and Comp., members of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Charges against other persons were reported to be imminent. A surprise audit was ordered last September by Frank Leslie, president of the brokerage company.

Canadian Corporation Head Calls U.S. Report 'Witch Hunt'

MONTREAL (CP)—P. M. Fox, president of the St. Lawrence Corporation Pulp and Paper Company, has termed a May, 1958 newspaper report by the United States attorney-general's office a "witch hunt."

He said the report, which traced price policies of newsprint companies for the past 50 years, was inspired by the "traditional malice" of the U.S. justice department's career officers.

The report followed several months of FBI investigation into newsprint supply and prices.

"The enquiry was officially based on national defence needs, the premise being that newsprint supply is essential to maintain a free press for protection of the country," Mr. Fox said at the company's annual meeting.

"But the actual inquiry had little or nothing to do with supply; it was the same old witch-hunt of trying to find something nefarious in the conduct of newsprint people."

The text of Mr. Fox's remarks was released to the press in advance of delivery.

He quoted the magazine Editor and Publisher as saying: "The attorney general (in his report) drew attention to the fact that there has never been a price reduction."

"NOT A FACT"

"That, of course, is not a fact; it is a ludicrous mis-statement. I have not gone back the full half-century but I have the public record of newsprint prices in the 40 years of 1920 to 1959 and it adds up to 11 years of price decreases, another 11 years of no change and 18 years of increases including the wartime increases made by U.S. price control authorities.

"The decreases have far outweighed the increases. In 1920 the price per ton was $112.60; by 1933 it was down to $80; a drop of nearly $73. In 1946 the last price fixed by Washington price control was $85; it has since been advanced by newsprint sellers to $134. . . . The current price is barely 19 per cent above the level of 40 years ago."

Mr. Fox said 1958 was a good year for the pulp and paper industry, with newsprint production the fourth highest on record.

Mr. Fox said the pulp and paper industry should follow the lead of the newspaper business and "obtain prices in line with rising costs."

St. Lawrence earnings last year dropped more than production did.

Mexico Gives Bum's Rush To Robber

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico has given the bum's rush to Frank Lawrence Sprenz, a flying American bank robber who is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men.

Two immigration agents were driving the fast-travelling, fast-talking holdup artist to the U.S.-Mexican border to hand him over to American authorities.

Captured Monday as he was fishing off the Yucatan coast, Sprenz was ordered deported for entering Mexico illegally. He was flown to Mexico City Tuesday afternoon and transferred to a car for the drive north.

The 29-year-old bandit is wanted for robbing a bank in Hamilton, Ohio, of $29,955, for the $1,490 holdup of an Akron, Ohio, cafe and for a series of other crimes in the United States and Canada.

"GOOD SENSE"

LONDON (CP)—Told that a young civil servant accused of theft had refused to see a psychiatrist, Magistrate Clyde Wilson at the Marlborough Street court said: "He showed good sense."
